50 IN PERIL, 2 INJURED WHEN 'L' CARS CRASH IN TREMONT TUNNEL

Two women were injured and fifty other passengers were shaken up and frightened today when two trolley cars crashed at a switch-over 50 feet into the entrance of the Tremont street subway at Broadway.

The women injured are Mary Lee, 31, and Jeanette Barr, 27, both of Quincy, South Boston.

They refused to go to hospital, although their injuries were not serious. The scene was first reported at the crash. As the cars came to a halt, the two trolley cars were found to be in the tunnel, the right grade of the Tremont street car at the wrong place. Michael McGowan, was at the controls of the City Point car.

The front end of the City Point car was damaged, while the Tremont street car was thrown twenty feet, although it held its ground.

In addition to the center door of the Tremont street car being shut, the windows were broken. The car was driven by Michael McGowan, Fred G. Perry of the Roxbury Transit, who was the passenger on the Roxbury car. He was taken to the City Point car at the crash.

Mercury Tops 52 on Third Hottest Hub Dec. 12

A mark of 52 above, the third highest for the date in 56 years of the Weather Bureau, was reached by the official thermometer at the Federal Building at 2 o'clock today.

Only twice on December 12 has the temperature gone above this, once in 1857 when 53 was reached and again in 1911 when the thermometer showed 54.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, not much change in temperature; fresh westerly wind.

2 SETBACKS FOR REMUS

Chinnatt, Dec. 12—George Remus, former military bootlegger, who is making a spectacular defense to the charge of killing his wife, Imogene, heard his character described as "bad" by a State witness at his trial today and lost at Boston held before the State Supreme Court at Columbus to force the prosecutor's office to give him every favor and build up anything he chooses, and try it himself at his own risk.

Next September Germans begin paying "Real money" under the Dawes plan. Each annual payment will amount to $500,000 each year, IN GOLD, with no definite date for stopping payments. Whoever imagines that Germany will pay out so much gold every year INDEFINITELY imagines what is not so. Germany is allowed to accumulate $1,250,000,000 in Germany in case foreign exchange cannot be bought. That provision will probably help to provide a revision. The world at large will be better off when that indefinite debt is settled on some definite POSSIBLE basis.

TROOPS CALLED IN OKLAHOMA

At the State Capitol they had been barred out by eighty guardsmen.

Scenes at the Capitol recalled the stirring days of 1923 when Governor Z. C. Dock's refusal to call a special session to investigate his administration as Governor Johnston also had declined to do. After several days of negotiations, in which no legislators were allowed in the building, Governor Walton approved the session and was impeached.

Governor Johnston today was granted a temporary restraining order to prevent the House returning impeaching charges against himself or any other State official. The order was issued by District Judge Chambers and hearing on application to make it permanent was set for tomorrow.

In his petition, Governor Johnston alleged that the "concent trust" of the State was spending a large sum of money and was back of the movement to have him impeached. He did not cite any specific figures.

MAP SHOWS ROUTE AIR COLUMBUS WILL FOLLOW IN FLIGHT TO MEXICO

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, first aviator to span the Atlantic in a non-stop flight, has accepted the invitation of President Calles of Mexico to fly from Washington to Mexico City. His flight may be a non-stop one and will be undertaken shortly. He will go as a "good will ambassador."

Inset show Col. Lindbergh, Calles and the "Spirit of St. Louis," in which he will make the trip.

Lindy Hop Delayed 10 Days; Asked to Cuba

Washington, Dec. 12 (U.S.A.)—Bad weather may cause a ten-day postponement of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's flight to Mexico City.

Satisfactory flying conditions are not expected before next week. Lindbergh is sending his plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, through a series of rigorous tests.

Lindy estimates that he will make the flight to Mexico City in twenty-six hours.

Lindy expects to encounter head winds most of the way and does not believe he can average 100 miles an hour the entire distance.

The Viking of the Clouds moved to Boling Field very soon to be in readiness to hop off the moment weather conditions are right. Of course it will be a difficult feat for him to take off at Boling Field with 550 gallons of gasoline. The runway is long enough but it is rough and partly filled with water.

Lindbergh is in constant contact with the Army and Navy flying officers.

Meanwhile, word comes from Mexico City of Lindbergh's plans to welcome him. Lindbergh's flight will meet him and escort him to the Valhalla field. The Mexican war department is arranging a lighting system in case Lindy arrives at night.

The matter before the committee which meets here in January.

Commander Spotted said: "In a speech in New York City the other evening, I proposed that a poll of the American Legion be taken on the wet and dry issue. This proposal was made on the highest plane, for I am one who tries to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States."

"However, after careful consideration, it seems that it is so controversial as to cause misunderstandings among our own members."

"A poll of some organization that ours would be of tremendous assistance to our nation, for it would undoubtedly cause our great political parties to write into their platforms in clear and unmistakable language just where they stood on the great moral question of the age."

Washington, Dec. 12 (A.P.)—Men interested in modification of the Volstead Act gathered today at the home here of former Senator Wade, of New York, for a secret meeting.

There have been reports that a meeting was to be held here to lay the groundwork for a fight on the Volstead Act during the present session of Congress, but whether this was gone into extensively was not announced.

GIRL HAMMER SLAYER FAINTS IN COURTROOM

JUDGE SCORES HER AS 'BRUTAL MURDERER'

Plainville, O., Dec. 12 (E.N.S.)—Following a two and a half hour argument before Municipal Judge Marvin Heller here today, Mrs. Velma West, charged with first degree murder of her husband, Thomas Edward West, at Perry, O., last Tuesday, was bound over to the grand jury without bond.

The state was exonerated, it was believed, principally upon the testimony of Dr. R. H. Seaton, Plainville, who was present when the girl was questioned by Lake county authorities.

Prosecutor Seth Paulin placed Dr. Seaton on the stand in lieu of introducing the girl's alleged confession. Francis Puslen, chief of defense counsel, contended to crime had been committed, and declared the girl was within her rights in defending herself.

In upholding the state's motion, Judge Heller characterized the murder of West, who was beaten to death with a claw hammer and a table leg, the most revolting crime in the history of Lake County.

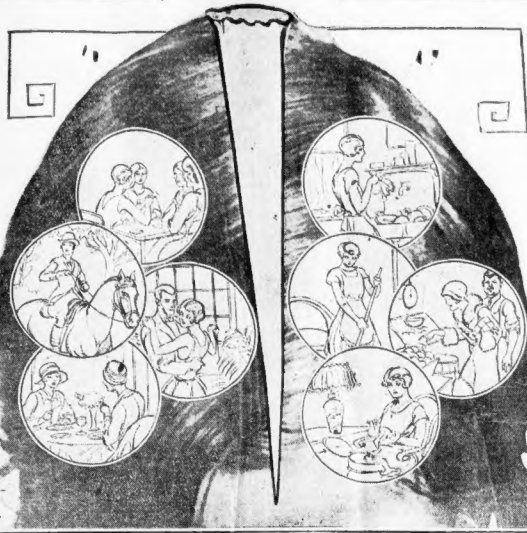

When Judge Heller described the murder Mrs. West screamed and fainted. She slipped from her chair and her mother and a deputy sheriff went to her aid, but she pulled them away as she regained her senses.

Becoming hysterical again, she screamed, remained unconscious for several moments, then again revived and quickly regained her composure.

During the proceedings, Mrs. West displayed little emotion. She eyed each speaker as he recited his knowledge of the crime. Dr. Seaton testified any one of the boys—one in the forehead, one in the eye, and a third in the back of the skull, would have caused instant death.

Counsel for Velma West, accused hammer slayer, are contending that their youthful client has a "split mind."

These sketches show how Velma West spent half her time on pleasure bent and half on making a home. Ohio authorities say she confessed to hammering Thomas E. West, her husband, to death and then murdering to a bridge party. In jail she is quoted as saying she was not sorry because he struck her.

CHRISTMAS DAY COMET LIKE BETHLEHEM'S STAR

VISIBLE IN THE WESTERN SKY ON DEC. 25

Nearly 2,000 years ago, the Magi, Three Wise Men of the East, trekked out of Persia on a journey of more than 1,000 miles, following the course of a star or comet that brought them eventually to their knees before the child, Jesus Christ, in a Bethlehem manger.

Christmas Day, this year, will find at its brightest in the heavens a new comet, perhaps a replica of the Star of Bethlehem that drew the Magi on the long trail to humble Bethlehem before the Son of God. Skywatchers expect it will be at the height of its brilliance—shortly visible to the naked eye—on the day Christmas Eve, just chosen to mark the birth of its ruler, according to Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, today.

"It is quite possible that the Three Wise Men saw a comet," said Dr. Shapley. "Whether it was a comet, a star, an unusual brightening of a star, or a comet, the comet will be within the greatest range of our visibility and observations this Christmas Day."

An encounter of the comet, hand upon its orbit, compiled by H. E. Wood, South African astronomer, was worked out by Island H. Cunningham of Hingham, a special student in astronomy at Harvard.

Dr. Cunningham worked throughout the night on his compilation which discloses that the celestial wanderer, discovery of an Australian amateur after whom it was named will enter the skies of the southern hemisphere.

POOR FISH GET THEIR NUMBERS

A chance to get a nice low number—1927—was offered to a lot of poor fishes today when attaches of the Registry of Motor Vehicles dumped several hundred license plates into the harbor. All the plates dumped were seized for violations and not returned, or were turned in by persons who ceased to own cars. Usually such plates are chopped up, but this year it was thought to save labor by dumping them in the harbor. J. B. Johnson, C. B. Driscoll, Ed Morrison and James Sheppard dumped the plates.

WANTS CITY TO PAY MOTHER IN MARGOLIS CASE

Legislation to permit Boston to pay $5,000 to the mother of Timothy J. Scannell, who was killed by the commuted automobile of Nathan Margolis, is asked in a bill filed by Representative James T. Twining at the State House today.

"I think it is about time to devote some attention to the untimely death of the victim of the accident and the tremendous sorrow of the Scannell family," Twining commented today.

"To at least partially compensate her for the loss of her son, I have filed this bill."

The city sought to furnish Margolis with a new car, but I agree with the proposed investigation conducted by Governor Fuller in order that justice may be done to Margolis.

"I also agree with the newspapers that the case should be brought to the courts to determine the rights of citizens in such cases and I sympathize with Margolis in his unfortunate predicament."

"But what about the victim whose young life was crushed out through no fault of his own? And the suffering and sorrow of his widowed mother and family?"

"I feel quite sure that the city is anxious to do justice in this case and I am confident the Legislature will make it possible by passing this bill."

How Ruth Passes Her Days in Death House

How does Ruth Snyder spend her time in the grim, gray confines of Sing Sing's death house?

The daily routine of a condemned murderer, with each hour drawing her closer to that little door between her and the electric chair, is herein described.

The slayer of Albert Snyder plays bill, chats with women guards, reads her mail, writes home and futilely pines for her narrow cell, trying to forget what she knows the future holds.

130 A. M.—Mrs. Lucy Mayo, matron on morning duty, awakens Ruth, who arises. She washes in built-in wash basin in cell, and then dresses in her prison dress of cheap taffeta, over which she puts a blue smock. She wears dark felt slippers, cotton stockings and bloomers.

830 A. M.—The breakfast hour in the death house is between eight and nine o'clock. Ruth usually has her breakfast served at 830. It consists of cereal, toast, eggs and coffee.

At 1030 A. M.—Ruth either talks to Mrs. Mayo, matron, or reads her morning paper, brought to her in her cell by Prisoner Kate John. Letters are carried by Warden Lawe, who permits them to be read in the prison.

LILLIAN REESE, CORCORAN CASE GIRL, TO WED

Mrs. Lillian Reese, a figure in the trial of William J. Corcoran and others in 1924 for alleged extortion, has filed intentions at city Hall to wed Francis H. Vigneux, formerly of Newport, Vt.

She did not have papers with her showing a divorce from her husband, Edward E. Reese, and was told she would have to present them before the license would be issued.

She gave her address as Browning street, Dorchester, and stated that Vigneux was living at the same address. She is employed as a waitress and he as a cookmaker, she said.

How Mrs. Reese came to be charged with a divorce case in 1924, she said, was through a misunderstanding.

Mrs. Reese, who has two children, a girl and a boy, filed suit for divorce against her husband in 1924, charging desertion, shortly after the start of the trial in Superior Court at East Cambridge in which she and Corcoran, former district attorney, and several others were convicted.

MRS. LILLIAN H. REESE, who figured as a government witness at the trial of W. J. Corcoran and others for extortion, has filed intentions of marriage with Francis E. Vigneux. She is divorced.

PLAN FUNERAL FOR EX-MAYOR

With Episcopal services at St. Paul's Cathedral, Tremont street, the funeral of ex-Mayor Matthews, dean of Boston's former Mayors, is to be conducted Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.
Rev. W. F. A. Stride of Hamilton, lifelong friend of the Matthews family, is to officiate.
The former chief executive died at the Phillips House, Massachusetts General Hospital, following a four weeks' illness. Pulmonary embolism was given as the cause.
Many good cars driven only a few miles, will be offered every day in Boston American Classified Ads. See Classified Section 156.

IN DEFENSE OF YOUTH

Lillian Berkowitz, high school girl, is the Porcia who springs to the defense of Young America. She answers the charge modern girl is simply a synthetic creation—the Patron Saint of Chemists.

Rouge is out of style and few of the present day high school girls use lipstick. Miss Berkowitz insists. As for short skirts they are worn that way for comfort only. And only "Old Maids" do the drinking.

RUSH WARSHIPS TO CANTON AS CITY FALLS

Shanghai, Dec. 12 (AP)—Two United States gunboats, the Saccariento and the Panganga, were at Canton today after the outbreak of disorder within the city.
The gunboat Asheville was en route from Hongkong.
There are between 20 and 40 Americans in the Canton district. The gunboats attempted to communicate with all of them.
Advices from Hongkong stated that C. C. Wu, foreign minister of the Nanjing Nationalist government, declared "the spring was undoubtedly directed by Russia." Canton, China, Dec. 12 (AP)—Canton was in a state of revolt and terror today under control of the handful of avowed communists who attacked government buildings, closed offices, killed and wounded hundreds of soldiers in street battles and announced they would form a "Red government."
Hong Kong, Dec. 12 (AP)—Persons arriving from Canton today stated that Chinese gunboats on the river shelled the Red.
They declared Communists had wrecked the police bureau, burning prisoners who suggested human rights. The gates to the foreign settlement were closed.
A pamphlet issued by the Red declaration that the coup which gave control of the city to them was executed by Communist laborers, peasants, and soldiers who expect to suppress all anti-Red elements in the city. The Red claim they will make Canton a center of the Communist movement in China.
They denounced General Chiang Kai-Shek, who took over the leadership of the Nationalist movement at Saturday by agreement of the Nan-king and Canton leaders opposed to Communism.
General Chang Kai-Wai barely escaped with his life and has taken refuge on a warship.

RABBI DEFENDS COMPANIONATE MARRIAGES

Pittsburgh, Dec. 12 (AP)—Judge Ben Lindsey has a staunch supporter on his idea of companionate marriage and birth control is Rabbi William Finesherber of Kane's Israel congregation here.
Rabbi Finesherber, in a sermon yesterday, said: "Companionate marriage is nothing new. The only new feature of its modern form is that it reveals things that were previously concealed."
"If I had a daughter who wished to marry a young man without money to establish a home which should be their ideal and if they planned to finish their careers and both saved their money, I should be glad to consent to their marriage."
"However, if such a union is entered into merely as a trial marriage it would be immoral."
He commended the proposals of Judge Lindsey and said "birth control is a fact, and is practiced by millions of people despite the volumes of law against it," and also compared the surreptitious violations with the spite disregard for the prohibition law, which is another of our silly episodes doing a tremendous injury to the moral fiber of our people, more than almost anything else I know of."
Gardner, Dec. 12 (AP)—Companionate marriages were condemned by President Daniel L. Marsh of Boston University in an address before the Chamber of Commerce before the Chamber of Commerce.
He also stated that next to Jesus Christ, Abraham Lincoln was the most revered man in history.

GIRLS HUMAN, NOT SYNTHETIC

A modern Porcia with a brief in defense of Young America stood before the court of public opinion today.

Clear of eye, and of mind, with sixteen years of her life untroubled by the smirch of sophistication, this girl stepped out of her high school student role to embrace a publicity she instinctively shunned and uphold the cause of modern youth.

She is Lillian Berkowitz. She is 16, and attends high school and lives in Dorchester.

Overpower stories and editorials maligning the fapper have gone against her grain for a long time. But she held her silence. The straw that broke the camel's back of her reticence was the statement made last week by Professor A. M. Low, British scientist, that the girl of today is a synthetic creation—chemistry's patron saint.

Listen to her.

WHY SHE KNOWS.

"I'll tell you what I think of modern youth. And I know best, because I am part of the youth of today."

"Short skirts, powder, rouge, lip sticks—what of them? Why should these cosmetics my mother used to make her waist line thin, so light that she fainted? To show off the beauty of her body? We wear short skirts for comfort and for health. Powder is nothing, all you older people use it. Rouge is now out of style. It was in style when our older sisters (those who are now out of style) went forth to meet their soldier boys on their return from the war. And lipstick? None of my friends use it, and we are modern youth."

And we are clean-minded, thank Heaven. I read an editorial saying that men like women in long skirts. It makes them more interested. We're not dressing to suit anyone but ourselves."

"As for these low drinking parties where women smoke and get foul-mouthed and just a little tipsy. You find those girls who are almost 'old maids.' If you meet them, don't use the term 'modern youth.'"

"They are only a crowd of old and gray Ponce de Leon in search of the fountain of youth."

NEW FAST SERVICE TO WEST STARTED BY B. & A.

A new fast service to the west was inaugurated by the Boston & Albany Railroad yesterday, when the North Shore Limited left the South Station at 8:25 a. m. carrying a sleeping car through to St. Louis arriving there at 1:30 p. m. today.

The new service eastbound began yesterday also, when a through sleeping car for Boston left St. Louis at 6 p. m. and ran through to Buffalo, where it will be attached to the eastbound North Shore Limited. This is a new train, which leaves Chicago each day at 5 p. m. and gives a fast service from Chicago to Boston.

The former train, the North Shore Limited, is the fastest train between Boston and Chicago except the Twentieth Century Limited.

How Ruth Passes Her Days in Death House

Ruth to read only notes of sympathy. Crank notes are confiscated. Lorraine and Ruth's mother write on a scrap of once a day. 1929 A. M.—Ruth is given her morning exercises in the women's death house. Mary, who usually takes the death and leads Ruth down the corridor to the jail and out, is permitted to throw it against the wall or to throw it to the matron. Ruth usually passes the day, having given up playing ball only recently. As the date of her execution nears, she is said to walk and exercise more vigorously.

1940 A. M.—The twenty minutes allowed for exercise being up, the matron leads Ruth back to the death cell. For ten or fifteen minutes Ruth passes the confines of her cell. Sometimes Ruth is visited by the prison physician, Dr. C. C. Sweet or Dr. Kearney.

11 A. M. to 1230 P. M.—Ruth receives an hour and a half of religious reading. The bus station looks on religious subjects. At present she is reading Parson's Life of Christ and the Bible.

1230 P. M.—Lunch is served. Matron takes away from Ruth's table and places it on the table in Ruth's cell. Lunch consists of stew, milk and bread.

1 P. M. to 3 P. M.—Ruth receives reading. Matron reports she is devout, and often stops reading to pray.

3 P. M. to 530 P. M.—Ruth receives new matron. Change of guard takes place at 530 A. M., 330 P. M. and 1030 P. M. The afternoon matron is Mrs. Annie Kopp, a widow. Ruth takes a great deal to all her guards, who in turn are very sympathetic to her.

530 P. M. to 440 P. M.—Ruth takes afternoon nap. Matron awakens Ruth, who is given her afternoon exercise in the death house. A tennis ball is given to Ruth, but matron carefully watches her to prevent any possibility of her forcing it into her mouth and committing suicide by strangulation.

440 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Ruth is brought to her cell.

440 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Ruth's death cell corridor. Time taken by Ruth to read any mail brought to her in afternoon. Sometimes she will pencil letters to her ten-year-old daughter or to her mother and hand them to her matron to mail. All letters written by her are taken to the Warden's office and carefully examined. Sometimes at this hour Mrs. Brown calls on Ruth to read from her cell to an unrecalled case in the outer corridor.

5 P. M. to 530 P. M.—Ruth reads from Catholic prayer book. Receives Chaplain McElroy, who comes to her cell and reads to her in religion. Sometimes her attorney, Joseph Lorraine visits her. He is permitted to enter the women's death house and Ruth is allowed to leave her cell and sit in the corridor with a matron nearby. When a lawyer is present Ruth foregoes her evening meal to discuss her legal battle.

530 P. M.—Ruth receives dinner. Chopped meat, potatoes, carrots and gravy are served. Bread and coffee with prunes for dessert. The death house matron sits at the same time Ruth does, partaking of their meal outside her cell. As the time for Ruth's meal is a basket, not eating prison fare.

5 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Ruth reads from Bible and other religious books. 5 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Ruth receives letters from Lorraine and her mother or other persons passing from her table and prayer book. Lights out 5 P. M.

1030 P. M. to 1030 P. M.—Ruth receives letters from Lorraine and her mother. At 1030 there is another change of guard. Mrs. Kopp departs and Mrs. Lorraine K. Hickey, wife of a former secretary to the Warden, arrives.

1030 P. M. to 11 P. M.—Ruth receives letters from Lorraine and her mother. At 1030 there is another change of guard. Mrs. Kopp departs and Mrs. Lorraine K. Hickey, wife of a former secretary to the Warden, arrives.

11 P. M.—Ruth receives letters from Lorraine and her mother. At 1030 there is another change of guard. Mrs. Kopp departs and Mrs. Lorraine K. Hickey, wife of a former secretary to the Warden, arrives.

Her daily routine consists of various things. At the end of the opportunity to take a shower bath twice a week. The shower is open, and at the end of the woman's death.

Dr. C. C. Sweet or Dr. Kearney, prison physician, usually visit Ruth daily. The calls are strictly professional, and only a few words pass between doctor and prisoner. At no time has Ruth needed medical attention.

The Warden only rarely visits the women's death cell, and then only on a general inspection tour. He does not speak to Ruth.

Ruth at present is without any doubts in the prison hall, so she cannot make any purchases at the commissary. She is permitted to have a few small articles, but she cannot have any sweets. Occasionally a matron shares a pie or cake with her.

1. The first step is to identify the main components of the system. This includes the hardware (CPU, memory, storage) and software (operating system, applications).

2. The second step is to analyze the system's performance. This involves monitoring key metrics such as CPU usage, memory usage, and disk I/O.

3. The third step is to optimize the system. This can be done by adjusting system settings, upgrading hardware, or optimizing software.

4. The fourth step is to test the system. This involves running various tests to ensure that the system is performing as expected.

5. The fifth step is to document the results. This involves creating a report that summarizes the findings of the analysis and optimization process.

6. The sixth step is to implement the changes. This involves making the necessary adjustments to the system based on the findings of the analysis and optimization process.

7. The seventh step is to monitor the system. This involves continuing to monitor the system's performance to ensure that the changes have been implemented correctly.

8. The eighth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the system's performance before and after the changes to determine the effectiveness of the optimization process.

9. The ninth step is to repeat the process. This involves repeating the entire process as needed to ensure that the system is always performing at its best.

10. The tenth step is to conclude the process. This involves summarizing the overall results of the optimization process and providing recommendations for future improvements.

LAUGHRAN-SLATTERY FIGHT FOR CLASS CROWN

New York Times - A new 'light heavy' welterweight will be crowned in Madison Square Garden tonight, when Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, tan the four must-challengers. Together in a 15-round contest to determine the light welterweight to back the winner who will receive the honors to meet the champion, bigger, more important task.

At present Loughran appears Slattery has a chance of the title, but he is one of the best fighters in the world. Loughran has a very good combination of both. Tom won't try to get the left leg he seems to be using Mike McGrath's left leg. Slattery is a graduate of the boxing school by eliminating Mike Rosenblum.

Two High Class Pro Games in Addition to Harvard-B. U. Tilt on Card

Arena Schedule

THURSDAY
Bruins vs. Rangers
Harvard vs. Boston University
SATURDAY
Tigers vs. Quebec

By BILL GRIMES
Although the Bruins-Rangers and the Tiger-Quebec games will be the feature attractions at the arena this week, the Harvard-Boston University conflict, which is scheduled for Friday, will be one well worth watching.

Since the Bruins have been forced to vacate the Harvard arena, Captain Johnson and his team are in a bit of a predicament. On the one hand, they are in the arena for a game with the Bruins, but on the other hand, they are in the arena for a game with the Bruins. This is a bit of a predicament for the Bruins, who are in the arena for a game with the Bruins.

Fighter on His Own After Bell Rings

By GENE TUNNEY
World's Heavyweight Champion
Speaking rather extemporaneously some few nights ago as the guest of Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey and Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, at the annual dinner of the Men's Club of the Lafayette Reformed Church in Jersey City, I arose with the intention of giving more prominence for college boxing and found myself comparing it to college football, to the latter's disadvantage.

I simply began plugging my own game in comparison with another and it was not long before I was down. I was down for a long time, and I was down for a long time. I was down for a long time, and I was down for a long time.

Florence Ziegfeld, Exec., Colonial Theatre, Boston, Mass.
My dear Mr. Ziegfeld:
Once again in its cycle has brought a England production to Boston for its initial performance, and once again have the people of our great City crowded the Colonial Theatre and voiced their unstinted approval to one of the cleanest, most scintillating and choicest shows that we of this city have been privileged to witness for a long time.

To me the name Ziegfeld has always stood for everything that is fine and beautiful in musical productions, and it was indeed a treat for me last night to attend the theatre and to listen to your first production of "Rosalie," clean and wholesome as it was, and it was evident that it was not alone in this experience and that my appreciation was shared by all in the large audience, which, with very few exceptions, remained until the final curtain long after midnight.

There is no question but what the stage has deteriorated and has long ceased to be a place for innocent amusement, but rather the medium for sex problems and for the exploitation of criminal situations. There is, however, one thing that must be a source of great satisfaction to you, and that is to witness the great demand for your shows and to hear them saying on all sides, "Wasn't it beautiful, wasn't it clean?"

Wishing you a season of glorious success with "Rosalie," and trusting more such productions will come to our city, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
John M. Casey

Eyelash Beauty Is Most Important

By Maria Jerlitz,
Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company and One of the Most Beautiful Women of the Day

Look at that expression, I exclaim. I do you ever see any thing more beautiful?

The smile which she gives me is a thing of beauty. It is the smile of a woman who has been through the most trying and arduous of careers, and who has emerged from it with a beauty that is the result of a life of discipline and self-control.

It is in this smile that I find the secret of her beauty. It is the smile of a woman who has been through the most trying and arduous of careers, and who has emerged from it with a beauty that is the result of a life of discipline and self-control.

It is in this smile that I find the secret of her beauty. It is the smile of a woman who has been through the most trying and arduous of careers, and who has emerged from it with a beauty that is the result of a life of discipline and self-control.

Lessons in Cooking

During the past few weeks, Maria Lee has been giving lessons in cooking to a group of young women. The lessons have been very popular, and the women have learned many valuable things about cooking.

One of the lessons was on the subject of "The Best Joke I Ever Heard." Maria Lee told the women that the best joke is the one that is told to a friend who is in a bad mood. The joke should be told in a way that is not obvious, and the friend should be able to see that the teller is really trying to cheer him up.

Origin of "Pin-Money"

"PIN-MONEY," as the name of a wife's allowance, dates back to the reign of Charles I. of England. This monarch received about $2,500 a year from the pin-makers; this sum he handed over to his Queen for her private purse.

Correct Manners

Fuel Food Is Tasty

"Why do we eat?" To keep alive, some one might say. But if we think of food as fuel, we can see that it is also a source of pleasure. Food is a source of pleasure because it is a source of energy. It is a source of energy because it gives us the strength and power that we need to live.

Point on Sauces

Sauces are an important part of a meal. They add flavor and interest to the food. They also help to keep the food moist and tender. There are many different types of sauces, and each one has its own unique flavor and texture.

Try Baked Bananas

Baked bananas are a delicious and healthy treat. They are easy to make and can be served as a dessert or a snack. They are also a good source of potassium and fiber.

BEHOLD, my Daughter, there are Seven Deadly Men from whom all woman pray to be delivered.

Lo, as too much paprika in the salad, as a flashlight in the eye, as a new towel to a tender chin, so is a Hot Air Artist. He riles the room as a loud speaker. He starves himself continuously. He cautions the conversation to become state and life beside him. In as a teatolate with a riveting machine.

As a second-hand silver on a doctress, as a telegram at midnight, as hot soup down the back of a child's green, so is a Caveat! He is 80 studies. He jerks the nerve and shatters the sensibilities. For what? woman deliriously to be stunned and mauled and choked to death? Vexing! A woman's heart is covered with a tender skin, and her reality is easily punctured. And above all things, she dreads GENTLE WOOD.

As stimulating as a reducing diet, as flattering as a cheap mirror, so is a Masculine Reformer. He is elements which soothe and under form infected membranes and heal the irritation and inflammation, while the exercise goes into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

MEDBURY SAYS--

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

THIS is the time of the year when hundreds of women are crying themselves into new fur coats.

A SOB, a day, keeps paper at bay.

THE average husband wants his wife to go to the theatre in something besides tears.

NEWSPAPER advertisements start all the trouble. The department store's motto is "Keep the home buyers pining."

ONE girl says her father is the kin she loves to touch.

MOLES are getting very common lately. So are wars.

ONE man bought his wife a black emma the other day. He told her he got it in Pittsburgh.

HE purchased it in a cloak and suit house.

SOME people are afraid to wear a fur coat. They are afraid of the silly, the animals never carried out.

AND you very seldom hear of a beaver wearing rubbers.

FURS are quite reasonable in New York. For ninety dollars you can get a Hudson suit that looks so much like you can't tell it from a monkey.

CARACOL is a whole lot cheaper than the monkey's bare stomach.

COLD THAT DEVELOPS INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolium, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolium is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolium contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and under form infected membranes and heal the irritation and inflammation, while the exercise goes into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosolium is guaranteed reliable in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is especially for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough for cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land.
In order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the new" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

500,000 Car Riders

Where Do THEY Get Off?

More than 1,250,000 people in the Metropolitan District want to see the Boston Elevated Railway question settled with fairness to both shareholders and car-riders, but with the best interests of the COMMUNITY placed first.

The ten-year trial period of public control will come to an end next Summer. The Commonwealth has an option on the road under which it then may take over the property for $109,335,627.78.

How much is the system worth? The Department of Public Utilities places its value "for transportation purposes" at $9,500,000 MORE than the option price.

What will the Legislature do? Ask the shareholders to take a 5 per cent. or a 10 per cent. dividend, under a continuance of public control? Turn the rehabilitated road back to its owners? Continue public operation, at the present guaranteed 6 per cent. dividend? BUY the road?

The Elevated has an ARMY of employees, in number more than 9,000.

THEY will want to know. Shareholders of record last year numbered 18,093, of whom 16,233 were Massachusetts folk.

THEY are interested, naturally.

But the Elevated has been made over, brought back to life, by the times of the more than 1,000,000 passengers it carries every day.

Where do THEY get off?

Governor Fuller asked that question last February, in an address before the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and in view of recent reports that the Governor is of a mind to remain on Beacon Hill until the Elevated question is settled and settled right, his remarks are of significance now. He said, in part:

"Lincoln chose a just but unpopular cause. There are many of them that need championing today—many just but unpopular causes. There are plenty of special pleas for special people; there is plenty of propaganda; there are plenty of organized minorities; there are plenty of those who want to get their hands into the public treasury clear to the shoulders.

"Labor is organized. They are pretty well able to take care of themselves. Capital, generally speaking, occupies the driver's seat, but it is the interest of the rank and file of the people that needs consideration today. The great rank and file are well high inarticulate in public affairs.

"Take the case of the Boston Elevated for an example. The owners, to use a slang phrase, are 'sitting pretty.' Their dividends are guaranteed. And labor—their wages are arbitrated once a year and boosted as a result. But where do the car riders get off? Theirs are the interests that are overlooked, and although the Legislature meets yearly it has time for about everything except this most important subject.

"They regulate the size of the picket and the number of hornpout, and the season in which they may be caught, but this great and important question of good transportation is ignored.

"And what prevails on the Elevated is fairly illustrative of a very general situation with which you gentlemen are familiar. . . ."

Judging by his present attitude, as well as from what he said on Washington's Birthday at the Elks' Hotel, we infer that in the various legislative readjustments which must be made with respect to the Elevated Railway the chief executive will do HIS utmost to safeguard, above all, the interests of 500,000 car-riders.

An instance of what looks like inefficiency on the part of the trustees but for which there may be a reasonable explanation is pointed out by the Department of Public Utilities in connection with its appraisal of the property.

The Elevated makes, at six powerhouses, the electricity which moves its cars. To generate this power in 1926 cost the $3,795,728.

If the same amount of power had been purchased, from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company or some other, the saving would have amounted to approximately $900,000.

The question of the Elevated and its future is one which touches nine-tenths of the homes of the Metropolitan District. Everyone whose homes have helped to build the NEW Elevated should watch developments in the Legislature.

More Speed for Boats

They Would Need It in War

Princess Xenia, married to a rich young American, William B. Leeds, traveled sixty-three miles an hour in a speed-boat thirty-eight feet long. She hopes, waves consenting, to go from New York to San Francisco by water in six days. That might cause railroad management to speed up a little.

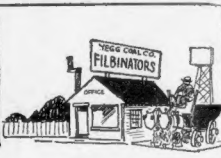

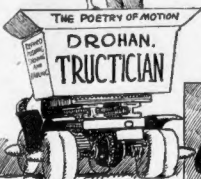

Boat building is almost as backward as farming, so far as science goes. The speed of Mrs. Leeds' sixty-three miles an hour by the use of a horizontal duralumin plane six feet long, four feet wide, attached to the boat at the stern, a few inches below the waterline.

Johannes Plum, Danish inventor of the speed-giving "skate," thinks it can be used on small war vessels. They will need it when, in REAL war, they meet airplanes going 300 miles an hour.

FAITH IN A LIFE AFTER DEATH

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A GENTLEMAN writes us a letter, from which quotations are as follows:

"The other day my wife died. She was 39 years old. She was a martyr to her duties and to her children.

"After 19 years of marriage and hard work this wonderful wife and wonderful mother, who never complained, was taken from us.

"Now in the time when she could have taken life more easy and could have enjoyed the growing up of her children while preparing herself for old age.

"In two days she is gone. My duty towards the children will keep me going and going strong, but I feel the need for something that shall keep me going on myself.

"I would like to know if there is a season for such happenings and furthermore that the deceased one is happy in another life. Please bear the cry of a spiritual man left in the middle of life (I am not yet 45), deprived of the only one faithful companion and with nine children, from 13 to two and one-half years. I have the feeling that no other woman can ever enter my life.

"I need a number of thoughts that shall satisfy me mentally and emotionally that everything is for the best and some certainty as to the life after death."

There is no certainty of the life after death. That is a matter that must be taken on faith and hope.

If we have a reasonable hope.

Those who live the higher life, that is above the animal, all have a feeling of another life.

While the Scriptures do not positively teach another life they assume it, as Christ says, "If it were not so I would have told you."

Honor, patriotism, self-sacrifice and devotion react into another life. In this life they are often thwarted.

What the Almighty's reasons were for taking this mother we cannot say. No one knows. But the best plan from any point of view is to go on assuming that He had a good reason. Nothing can be gained by giving up.

If we believe in the high purposes and devoted life of the deceased we shall ourselves participate in them.

If there is another life and the deceased is cognizant of our doing here, she cannot but be gratified to know that we are living up to our ideals.

The memory of this mother has faded into a memory, but that memory will continue to inspire and bless her children and her husband.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

DO YOU WANT A DIVORCE? I hope not, but in case you do, what law are you going to tell the Judge?

"Get" you protest. "Why, I wouldn't dream of trying to a Judge! Wouldn't you? Then the chances are just about 99 to 100 that you won't be able to get a divorce in these United States. For unless you have committed—or WILL COMMIT—some fantastic crime, divorce against your mate, the courts hold no relief for you.

The average American doesn't commit fantastic misdemeanors against his mate. We don't function in the manner of grand opera, Salome, if ever, with her Villi or Patti villainesses. That sort of thing goes against our national sense of humor and spoils our standing with the Chamber of Commerce. However, we do at times find each other extremely unamiable and we long for freedom and a new chance at happiness. But can we get up in court and tell it to the Judge and there by released from our marital vow? We can NOT. A mere yearning to be rid of each other forever is not accepted as grounds for divorce in America. We must say it with brackets or blunders or say out of court. Hence the large and remunerative business in divorce lawyers.

Judge Ben Lindsey would put a stop to all this unbridled and dishonest practice by legalizing "voluntary mutual consent." The Bill—"THE COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE" law—proposes a bill—To amend the laws relating to divorce would add a clause providing that if both parties agree, and where the efforts of the magistrate to bring about a reconciliation have failed, and where the couple mutually desire a divorce, the divorce shall be granted without further expense or needless delay. This would require no lawyers, no more than getting married requires a lawyer. A Judge can marry people.

LAUGHTER and tears, these fill the years,

Life still is new and strange.

Gladness and grief alike are brief,
And so the rain must fall;
By sun whose no one is grown,
No life whose tale.

Winter days bring thoughts
Of life that sleeps below

That breathe beneath the snow.

And praise's barren breast,
Vile Nature knows in calm repose
Her flowers take their rest,
And so in life dark days of strife,
But serve to bring the happy Spring
And bid the soul up rise.
